Intellectual Property Law In The Race To A Coronavirus Vaccine

Intellectual property, innovation, access and COVID-19. June 2020. By Francis Gurry, Director General, WIPO. The main challenge at the present time is not access to vaccines, treatments or cures for COVID-19, but the absence of any approved vaccines, treatments or cures to have access to. The policy focus of governments at this stage should therefore be on supporting science and innovation that will produce a vaccine, treatments or cures.
