I understand the L175, L210, L225, L225DT, and L260 are essentially the same tractor except for differing engine size. Also the L225/L225DT has a 3 cyl engine and the 225DT has 4 wheel drive components. If you know other wise, let me know. I think the 1969-70 L200 is somewhat like these but didn't have headlights.

The model numbers L175, L210, L225, L225DT and L260 have been used on completely different tractors in later model years so knowing if you have an early 70's model is critical. I'm told that the L210 is not supported by Kubota anymore. I expect it's the same for the others.
