TractorData.com Yanmar YM1500 tractor information

The Yanmar YM1500 was built between 1975 and 1979. It was redesigned midway through production and divided into what is commonly called the "red" and "green" model based on the original hood color. The Yanmar 1500 does not have a water pump (though we offer a kit to add one) and does not have a thermostat. It is important to keep the coolant mixture to about 25% antifreeze during the summer to prevent overheating.
